We sometimes think it would be very nice to have no work to do. How we envy rich people who have not to work for their living, but can do just what they please all the year round. Yet when we feel like this, we make a mistake. Sometimes rich people are not happy when we think they are, because they are tired of having nothing to do. Most of us are happy when we have regular work to do for our living, especially if the work is what we like to do. The first thing work does for us is to give us happiness. Then work gives us self-respect. The idler, however rich he is, lives on the work of others. He is like the beggar in the streets, who takes the money of other who have had to toil for it. Such people do not live independently, and ought to feel ashamed of themselves. But the honest worker who earns his living by useful toil, can hold up his head and respect himself. Lastly regular work helps to build up character. It teaches us such good habits as punctuality, carefulness, thoroughness, and faithfulness in work. It is the man who works not the idler that develops a good character.

[1] A man passed by me close,
I asked my way, he said,
"come, follow me, my friend"-
I followed where he did.

[2] when the gong sounds ten in the morning and I walk to school by our lane,
Everyday I met the hawker crying, "Bangles, Crystal, Bangles!"
There is nothing to hurry him on, there is no road he must take,
No place he must go to, no time when he must come home
I wish I was a hawker, spending My day in the road, crying "Bangles, Crystal Bangles!"
